

If you think that sounds like fun,
we're for you.

They say nobody reads any more but you couldn't help yourself, could you? That's because you're curious. Curiosity is a sign of intelligence so give yourself a high five. Curiosity is also a big part of Girl Guides. We're always searching, trying out new things, sometimes crashing and burning, and always laughing and learning. We like pretending the impossible is possible and seeing how far we can get. The best part is, we do it together. In Girl Guides, getting together to revel in life's amazing possibilities is what we're all about.

Still Curious?

VICTORIA

Connected Girls

Let's face it. Girls are half the population of the world and 10 million of us are Girl Guides. We're in 145 different countries, which makes us the largest organisation in the world just for girls. With all of those connections, we've got a front row seat to what it means to be a girl all over the world. In some ways, we're the same. In other ways, we're beautifully different. If you're the type of girl who wants to get to know a whole bunch of other types of girls, we're for you.

Active Girls

We get together once a week during school terms (and more often when we're putting on an event or show). Sometimes we go on trips together too. Oh! And, when we're out in public, we always make a bold statement by wearing Girl Guides outfits ... shirts and hats and sashes to show off all our badges. That's right. We earn badges and awards every time we learn a new skill or conquer a difficult challenge. If you're the kind of girl who likes to achieve new things, we're for you.

Independent Girls

Sure, we've got adults who guide and encourage us. But they don't make decisions for us or choose our activities. We do. That way, we learn to be leaders, we're never bored, and we're always doing things that interest us (or even scare us a little bit). Some days, we do brainy things like cooking, or science, or coding. Some days we do big-hearted things like helping out in the community or cleaning up the environment. Other days, we're getting physical with sporty activities and adventures in the outdoors. If you're a girl who makes her own decisions about what she wants to do, we're for you.

Girl Guide Girls

Courageous, caring, smart, sassy, creative, determined, daring. The truth is, there isn't just one way to be a girl. There are lots of ways. And the world needs all of us. As Girl Guides, we take time out from school and everyday life to explore what types of girls we want to be. We get really good at being really good friends. We try things we've been afraid to try elsewhere. We learn about the world. And figure out what we want our lives to mean. Best of all, we do all those things the way girls are naturally wired to do them.
