BADGE LINK

Create a Challenge - Nature

The “Create a Challenge” badges allow you to write your own challenges in an area of interest or on a topic you would like to learn more about. You could start by making an insect hotel, then talk to your Leader about which other challenges you could include to work towards the badge. Maybe you could find out more about the role of bees in the food chain, and what food the bees in your area like most.

You could also find out more about the bees and other insects that visit your “hotel”, and record visitors over time to see who “checks in”. Are there “rooms” that are more popular to certain insects than others?
